

HERE ARE WAYS TO SHOW WILDLIFE YOUR LOVE

Choose the best word from below for each blank space.

LIKE YOU, I need _____ to drink to stay alive. Please fill my bird bath often with fresh, clean water.

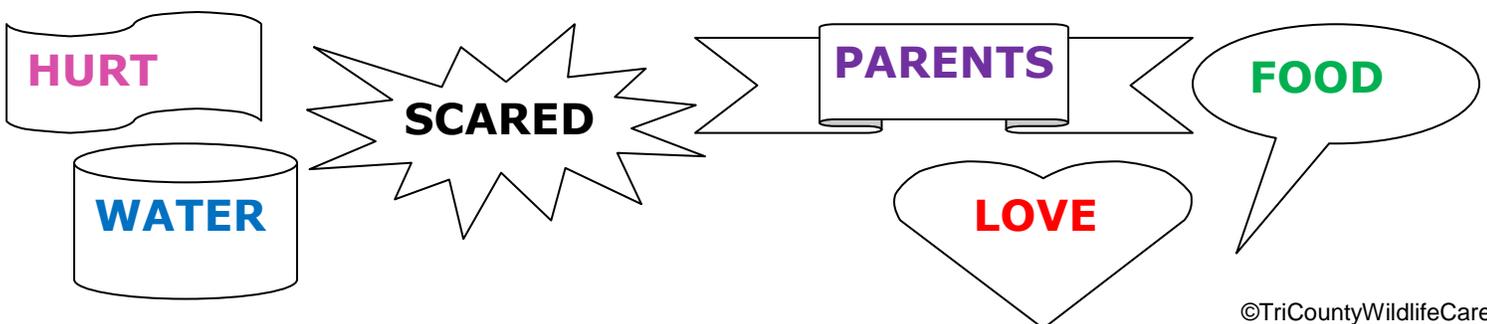

LIKE YOU, I get _____ if somebody chases or yells loudly at me. Please use your indoor voice if you see me. Please just watch and admire me.

LIKE YOU, I do best when I learn from my _____. Please don't take me away from my wild home and family.

LIKE YOU, I need _____ to eat to grow strong and have energy. But not what you eat. It is not good for me. Please keep your garbage lids closed tight and your pet food in at night.

LIKE YOU, I sometimes get _____. If you see one of us looking sick or hurt, please call Tri County Wildlife Care at 209-283-3245 to help you figure out what to do.

LIKE YOU, I need _____ and respect. Just because I am different than you, I am still awesome. Just LIKE YOU!

PLEASE LOVE ME JUST THE WAY I AM

Whether I am BIG or small, fast or slow, smelly or sweet, I am still pretty awesome!

My feet may be yellow or green, my fur may be brown or red, my eyes may be glowing or watchful, my feathers may be grey or blue. Any which way, I am still pretty awesome.

LIKE YOU, I have my place in the world. Please love me just the way I am.

I am a raccoon. I know I'm not much loved but I'm smarter than a cat, can untie a shoelace, pick up a dime and walk headfirst down a tree...nimble is my game. Not to brag, but I can make 51 sounds to protect what's mine: hiss, growl, purr, whistle, whinny, to name a few. Wow! I am just amazing.

I am a turkey vulture. Yes I am. If it's hot outside, I pee on my feet to keep them cool. To fly faster from danger, I throw up to lose weight. My head is bald to keep rotting flesh from sticking...ewww. I throw up to feed my kids. I am so awesome.

I am an opossum. Yes indeed. I roam at night, sleep by day and sometimes just hang...by my tail. I'll eat anything and everything, but, hey, I have up to 13 kids to feed. Love those kids. I carry them on my back to keep them close. Been told I look like a rat, but prettier. To fool my enemies I'll play dead – for hours. I adore ticks, but who doesn't? I am too cool.
